Description

Adidas men's shoes. Terrex Swift hiking boots are reliable companions when conquering trekking routes. The upper part of the outdoor shoes consists of a combination of synthetic and textile material for a higher level of durability. The soft midsole made of EVA material guarantees comfort and absorbs shocks, while the Continental rubber sole provides excellent traction.

Trekking shoes for men have reinforced toe and heel for good fixation of the foot, rubber reinforcement on the sides in the form of strips, soft textile interior with a shaped insole that is hygienic and improves comfort during walking. Boots for the forest have a padded tongue and an interesting Speedlace lacing system, which is very reliable, strong and durable. On the upper hem you will find a loop for easier putting on shoes and on the sides the brand logo. Adidas shoes are ideal for hiking, trekking, camping and outdoor adventures.
