Description

Redmi headphones. Stylish headphones in white design are a current trend that is loved by both the young and the old. They will provide you with great entertainment, no matter where you are. You can use the white headphones on the way to work, on the bus or during sports. Redmi headphones have a compact ergonomic design. They adapt to you and do not press even with prolonged use. The package also includes three sizes of earplugs (S, M, L), which allow you to customize them individually. You can easily connect them to a smartphone using Bluetooth with a range of up to 10 meters. Subsequently, they always connect to the phone automatically after removing it from the case.

Wireless headphones have a battery inside. It provides up to five hours of operation on a single charge. The advantage of the package is also a practical charging case, in which you can charge the headphones and thus extend their duration up to 18 hours. The integrated microphone allows you to make hands-free calls after pairing with the phone. You don't have to take your mobile out of your pocket or purse. The earphones do not have a volume control. You can switch between modes by touching the handset.

Bluetooth headphones are highly durable thanks to IP54 protection. So you don't have to be afraid to take them with you when you go jogging, exercising or cycling. A big advantage is that even after contact with drops of water or sweat, the wireless headphones remain fully functional. You will definitely appreciate the powerful sound for an even better atmosphere, for example while playing games with low latency mode.
