Description

Fjallraven brand backpack. Backpack made exclusively from polyester recycled from eleven plastic bottles. Dyed with SpinDye technology, which radically reduces the amount of water, energy and chemicals used. The advantage of the Fjallraven branded backpack is the water-resistant material.

The Fjallraven Kanken backpack has one main compartment that is optimally spacious. There is also a zippered pocket on the front. Two side pockets are a plus for storing small items. The Fjallraven backpack also has a hidden seat pad. The burgundy rucksack is a great companion for casual wear, to school, work and leisure.
