Description

Adidas men's shoes. Trekking shoes will impress with their high-quality design and functionality, which will be appreciated by all tourists. Emphasis was also placed on the appearance of trekking shoes. Terrex hiking boots are must-have footwear for all enthusiasts of hiking and tackling mountain trails.

Boots for the forest have a durable, yet breathable mesh upper. This material is additionally reinforced in the most stressed parts, such as the toe and heel. Men's hiking boots are also made from recycled Primegreen material.

The shoes for the mountains will provide super comfort thanks to the shaped insole inside and the padded collar of the shoes. The lacing makes it possible to adapt men's outdoor shoes according to individual needs. Outdoor shoes have a grippy Continental sole with lugs. Their dual-density midsole combines the comfortable cushioning of trail running shoes and the stability of outdoor shoes, so they won't get lost even on more demanding climbs. Ideal for trekking and camping.
