Abus cycling helmet. The cycling helmet is made of high-quality materials and will provide the necessary protection during cycling adventures. It has a modern sports design. It is made with In-Mold technology, which makes it durable, strong, but light. EPS combined with five linked polycarbonate shells and ActiCage make this helmet extremely safe and robust. The helmet has a structured reinforcement (mesh), which is integrated inside the EPS for even greater strength, compactness and stability of the helmet material. The n a bike helmet provides additional protection against external influences thanks to the reduced lower edge.

The bicycle helmet is easily adjusted using the Zoom Ace system wheel at the back. You can adapt it to the circumference of your head as you need. The advantage is the soft padding providing comfort during wearing. The cycling helmet has several ventilation holes that provide the necessary air supply and prevent the head from overheating. The soft and adjustable straps are easily fastened under the chin with a buckle. The Abus helmet has a sun visor and the GoggFit system allows the glasses to be stored securely when not in use.
