Description

R2 cycling gloves. Full-finger bicycle gloves currently have the best protection against bruises and blisters. They also dampen vibrations very well. They are therefore suitable for mountain bikes and for more demanding uneven terrains. The advantage of the cycling gloves is the DoubleGel double gel reinforcement, which increases comfort when holding the handlebars. Bike gloves are flexible and will adapt.

Cycling gloves are made of durable and high-quality materials, which ensure not only comfort, but also good ventilation, sweat removal and protection against adverse weather. They have a modern design, which includes two fingers topped with a special material for controlling touch devices. The R2 gloves are fastened with Velcro. Reflective elements for your safety are also a bonus.
