Description

R2 cycling gloves. Full-finger bicycle gloves in universal black color are intended for demanding cyclists. They are also a suitable choice for an electric bicycle. The palm of the gloves has gel linings and also ventilation. Anti-slip treatment is a matter of course. The back of the gloves is also equipped with gel protection for joints and fingers. A bonus is the end of two fingers with a special material, thanks to which you can control the displays of touch devices.

Cycling gloves are made of durable materials that wick away moisture well. They are flexible and elastic enough. They are finished with a Velcro fastener, which makes it easier to put the gloves on the bike and ensures that they are properly held in place. E-bike gloves are a great choice for cycling adventures.
