Description

Adidas women's shoes. Hiking boots for ladies have a modern design in soft colors. They excel in their functionality. The advantage is the Gore-tex membrane, thanks to which women's hiking shoes are suitable even for poor and wet conditions. Your feet will always stay dry even in rain or snow. Trekking shoes have a durable and abrasion-resistant upper, which will still provide the necessary breathability.

Adidas Terrex women's have a light construction, which you will especially appreciate when tackling hiking trails all day long. You can adjust the classic lacing as needed. Waterproof adidas shoes have a padded collar and tongue, so they are comfortable to walk in. The brand's hiking boots feature an EVA midsole that provides cushioning on uneven terrain. The Continental rubber sole ensures grip. These low hiking boots can tackle any terrain from rocky scree and wet roots to unpaved, dusty trails. Women's outdoor shoes are excellent for discovering the beauty of nature. It was also made from recycled materials.
