Description

Tecnica men's shoes. Low hiking boots have a universal gray color and quality design. They are suitable for summer hiking or running in mountainous terrain. The durable upper is sufficiently breathable and will provide the necessary protection to your feet. The light construction will please every hiker, as well as the comfort and convenience that boots for the forest offer. They have a padded collar and an Ortholite insole.

Low hiking shoes for men ensure excellent comfort and protection thanks to the innovative anatomical hoof and preformed insole. The EVA midsole perfectly absorbs shocks. Thanks to the ultra-large oversized heel with stabilization lamellae, the Tecnica shoes provide you with unrivaled braking and better performance when going downhill. Tecnica shoes are tied with classic laces. The advantage is the multi-traction sole made of Vibram® Litebase™ technology and Megagrip™ compound rubber. It offers optimal grip on all surfaces, both dry and wet. This all-mountain shoe with a new level of grip is a guarantee of protection, comfort and your satisfaction.
