Description

Tecnica men's shoes. Hiking boots in brown are designed in an outdoor design that is timeless. They impress with their excellent functional properties. Low trekking shoes are reliable companions in the mountains. Men's trekking shoes have a Vibram sole and guarantee a high level of grip on various types of terrain. Vibram shoes protect the feet from hard surfaces, rocks or sharp stones.

Men's forest boots have a midsole made of EVA material. This will enable excellent damping and cushioning. The strength of men's mountain footwear is the Gore-Tex membrane, which is a guarantee of comfort even in damp or wet environments. Thanks to this, hiking shoes are optimally breathable and waterproof.

Tecnica men's shoes perfectly adapt to the feet. It has classic lacing that fixes the foot very well. The unique pattern of the multi-layer sole is inspired by the design of MTB enduro tires made with Vibram Litebase technology and Megagrip compound rubber, which offers excellent grip on all surfaces, both dry and wet, when going downhill.

These hiking shoes can be shaped to measure in the area of the heel and arch. The inner insole of the shoe is pre-shaped.
