Description

Adidas women's shoes. Women's adidas Terrex trekking shoes convince with sophisticated design and functionality. Black hiking boots have a waterproof Gore-Tex membrane, thanks to which your feet will always be dry. The upper is made of durable material that allows excellent air circulation.

Women's hiking boots have a quick lacing system that provides the necessary stability. Low hiking shoes have a Continental sole, which ensures excellent grip on both dry and wet surfaces. The padded collar of the shoe and the EVA midsole, which provides excellent damping and cushioning, contribute to the comfort of wearing these shoes in the forest. The cut of the outdoor shoes is adapted to the anatomy of a woman's foot. Reinforced heel and toe will provide the necessary protection and stability. These women's hiking boots are ideal for hiking, camping and outdoor adventures.
