Description

Asics women's shoes. Running sneakers in a modern design will please all stylish runners who prefer more challenging terrain. The trail shoes have a breathable upper made of technical mesh, which ensures the necessary air circulation and keeps your feet dry. The upper of the trail shoe is supplemented with additional reinforced parts in the area of the toe and heel to ensure stability and support. Black sneakers are tied with laces.

The running shoes use the FF Blast technology, which provides the necessary cushioning thanks to the midsole. The revised ASICSGRIP™ sole design now has a lighter construction and better grip to the surface underfoot. Asics trail sneakers also have reflective elements. Recycled materials were also used in the production of running shoes.
