Description

Spokey mat. Camping in nature often becomes a test for our outdoor equipment. That is why it is worth betting on a mat model with higher mechanical resistance. The tourist mat is made of two layers of different materials (from EVA foam and XPE foam), which improves its technical parameters - increases its mechanical resistance and ensures the best thermal insulation. The trekking mat will never disappoint you and will increase the comfort of sleep in any conditions. Its thickness (1 cm) ensures an excellent insulating layer from the ground, and in addition, the foam evens out uneven terrain well. The hiking mat (180 x 50 cm) can be used by anyone, regardless of age.

If you are looking for an outdoor mat that will ensure that your night in nature, in a tent or under a shelter will be as comfortable as in your bed, then the Campinos trekking mat is here for you. This is great outdoor equipment - it is very light (weighs only 280 g) and can be folded very easily and quickly. Thanks to this, it does not take up much space among other equipment, so you can always have it at hand.
