Polycolon technology:

- Polycolon - polypropylene fibers stand out for their absolute waterproofness, strong thermal insulation ability and low weight. By its properties, polypropylene surpasses any other synthetic fiber, including polyester, which is heavier and its surface is not hydrophobic - it absorbs water.
- Polycolon is a polypropylene fiber from the Schoeller company, which is the European leader in the field of synthetic fibers. Compared to other polypropylene fibers, Polycolon stands out for its softness and limited shrinkage.
