Description

VoXX brand socks. Socks for the forest impress not only with their functional properties, but also with their outdoor design. The hiking socks have padded zones that prevent bruises and blisters. Trekking socks reach about half the calf. The classic height of trekking socks is suitable for every type of foot.

Mountain socks are made of material with a high proportion of cotton. Cotton socks have a high ability to wick away moisture. Another advantage is that nature socks are very pleasant to the touch. Very popular socks for hiking boots, suitable for a longer stay in nature, camping and other outdoor activities. The socks belong to temperature class B: from -5°C to + 20°C.
