Description

VoXX brand socks. Tourist socks appeal not only with their functional properties, but also with their outdoor appearance. Trekking socks have padded zones that prevent bruises and blisters. Socks for the mountains reach about half the calf. The classic height of trekking socks is suitable for every type of foot.

Forest socks are made of material with a high proportion of cotton. Cotton socks for nature have an excellent ability to wick away moisture. Another plus is that outdoor socks are very pleasant to the touch. The popular hiking boot socks are great companions for longer stays in nature, camping, trekking and other outdoor activities. The socks belong to temperature class B: from -5°C to + 20°C.
