Description

Junior shoes of the brand Grisport. Higher cut hiking boots are designed in a timeless design. The upper of outdoor shoes is a combination of suede and synthetic material for a higher degree of resistance and better air circulation. The toe and heel of the trekking shoes are reinforced with additional material to protect the foot. Thanks to the soft insole, trekking shoes provide perfect comfort. The soft padded tongue is also an advantage of trekking shoes.

The quality rubber sole makes these shoes extremely light and comfortable. The deep sole helps grip on different types of terrain. The toe is reinforced, increases the durability of the shoe and protects against impact. Gray shoes are intended for hiking, trekking, outdoor activities and free time.
