Description

Kayland women's shoes. Lightweight and breathable hiking and touring shoes, efficient and versatile for light and fast hiking, even in mixed and demanding terrains. Specific construction for the female foot! You will immediately fall in love with these low hiking boots! Their uppers are made using a modern knitted technique, which gives the structure excellent breathability and lightness, and also allows better wrapping of the foot, which is also helped by the soft and anatomical tongue.

The trekking boots have a quick lacing system with an integrated stopper and an external hook, which allows immediate donning and easy and quick adjustment even during activity.

EVA wedge for maximum lightness, stability and cushioning. Their Vibram Multiverse stud has a specific design for mixed terrain, with a functional pattern for zooming, with maximum heel grip and a full toe area for climbing safety.
