Description

Kayland men's shoes. Hiking shoes in an attractive color combination in a low cut, suitable for summer hiking or via ferrata. Mountain shoes with a suede upper are resistant to abrasion with the ALS system, which firmly fixes the foot in all circumstances. Outdoor shoes have asymmetric lacing extended to the toe, which allows good unfastening of the foot and, together with reinforcement on the heel and toe, guarantees an excellent foot fit.

Low hiking shoes for men have a microporous foam midsole. It perfectly disperses shocks and reduces stress on the foot and joints. Hiking shoes with Vibram® Gravity soles are enriched with MegaGrip admixture, for perfect adhesion to the terrain, and there are softer zones on the toe and heel for climbing, for example. The Gore-Tex® membrane ensures waterproofness and breathability at the same time.
