Description

Women's jacket by Northfinder brand. The trekking jacket combines several textures and immediately impresses with its modern design. The Northfinder windbreaker perfectly insulates heat, on the chest and shoulders it is reinforced with a softshell for even better protection against frost. The women's hiking windbreaker with a high collar and a built-in hood is insulated and, together with the elastic cuffs, protects well against the cold. The waterproof hiking jacket has stitching in the lower part of the body and on the sleeves.

The jacket for the mountains has two pockets on the sides large enough to store all your small things that you want to always have at hand. Women's hiking windbreaker is a good accessory for hiking on cold days, for nature walks and other outdoor and leisure activities.
