Description

Blizzard brand ski gloves. Leather gloves for the slopes will become invaluable companions for the moments spent on the slopes. High-quality processing provides durability and excellent protective properties of the hands when skiing. The upper leather material together with the water-repellent Waterblock membrane will ensure the comfort of the hands during the entire skiing. The inner synthetic material keeps the hands warm and dry.

The ski gloves have a silicone treatment on the palm for a better grip and a feeling of better control of the poles. Black leather gloves are designed for versatile use, from professional skiing to recreational use.
