Description

Five Seasons children's overall. A colorful children's overall in a combination of purple, pink and black is exactly what you are looking for for your child in the winter. The simple functional design guarantees comfort and the functional properties protect the child from cold, frost and snow. The waterproof coverall has a HYTEC membrane and a microporous coating. It does not let moisture in, but it provides good breathability to the skin. It perfectly insulates heat.

The children's snow coverall is designed for playing in the snow, it has a reinforced back area and the knee area, which are more stressed during games and prone to tearing. There are elastic cuffs at the ends of the sleeves and pants to prevent any snow from getting inside. Reflective patches provide extra visibility even in poor lighting conditions. There is an elastic band on the back in the back area, thanks to which the overall fits beautifully on the figure. The child can easily hide hands or small items in the two front button pockets. the ideal partner for winter games or spending time in the snow.
