Description

Tecnica women's shoes. A must-have for all trail runners! Whether you are a beginner or an advanced runner in nature, these shoes will make your journey from start to finish much easier and more pleasant. They fall into the all-mountain category. Women's trail shoes provide a high level of grip on different types of terrain and protection of the feet against hard surfaces, rocks or sharp stones. At the same time, these running shoes for the forest are extremely comfortable and will give you a natural feeling when running. Quick acceleration is guaranteed by the rocker of the midsole and the unique rounded shape of the toe, which also allows the foot to bend naturally.

All-mountain running shoes for ladies adapt perfectly to the feet, have classic lacing and adhere well to the foot. The larger cut hem guarantees comfort and freedom of movement of the foot even during the most dynamic movements on rocks or in rugged terrain. The unique multi-layer sole pattern is inspired by the design of enduro MTB tires made with Vibram Litebase technology and Megagrip compound rubber, which offers optimal grip on all surfaces, both dry and wet, both downhill and uphill. The extremely wide shape of the heel will help you in this, which guarantees stability. Two rubber stabilizing ribs on each side ensure balance during hard braking and in demanding situations on difficult terrain. These trail shoes can be molded to fit the runner in the heel and arch area. The shoe has a pre-shaped inner insole.
