Description

Women's cycling pants from the Northfinder brand. Cycling pants for ladies with detachable cycling shorts with a performance insert with a combination of foam and gel will take care of long hours in the saddle in comfort. The material used is flexible, non-absorbent and provides excellent breathability.

A simple belt with wide rubber keeps them in place during the entire ride. The flat seams are placed in such a way that they did not interfere with the ride and did not rub the skin. Two zipped pockets offer enough space for everything you need. Strategically placed reflective elements ensure your safety in reduced visibility. Just get on the bike and go!
