Description

Under Armor women's shoes. Sports sneakers are in a classic design in gray color, which will appeal to women who like simplicity. Running shoes for ladies are also suitable for harder urban surfaces. The solid color boots have a technological mesh upper that provides you with strategic support with very good air ventilation and is extremely light. For better comfort during sports or all-day wear, it has padding under the tongue and around the ankle collar. They can be combined very well with sports sweatpants, leggings or trendy sweatshirts.

Under Armor shoes have a padded insole that adapts perfectly to the foot and absorbs shocks well. For better protection, they have a reinforced toe and heel and use classic lacing. High-quality sneakers have a Charged Cushioning® midsole made of compression foam, which is a guarantee of comfort and durability, absorbs vibrations well and has a long service life. The sports shoes have a sole with a tire pattern that strives for the best flexibility and perfect traction in every movement on every surface. It is a brand that is known all over the world and is a guarantee of quality, good name and breaks all the boundaries that come before it. Brand shoes are ultra light. Boots for ladies are a great choice for training, various sports and leisure activities.
