Description

RH+ cycling glasses. Sports glasses immediately attract your attention and catch your eye. They will especially please those who like a sporty look and those who put up with quality and comfort during sports. The glasses are mainly intended for cycling and their benefit is a flexible construction, which has a really low weight and guarantees you comfort during all-day wear. Practical glasses have a frame with replaceable lenses, which is a big plus and many of you will be pleased. This piece is suitable for both ladies and gentlemen.

The high-end glasses have metal inserts around the nose that are flexible and shaped with anti-allergic rubber, which ensures easy adjustment and adaptation. They are suitable for every type of face. The sleeping part is specially adapted, it is in close contact with the head and is adapted so that there is room for sufficient breathability and grip. Black-red glasses have filter 3: 9% and 18% light transmission. You shouldn't miss RH+ glasses either, and it's a hot new item this summer. Cycling is becoming more and more popular, so don't hesitate and order them now.
