Description

Anta men's jacket. The training windbreaker will appeal to men who like a look based on clean lines. You can easily combine the jacket in black with sports pants or training leggings for men. The sports jacket ensures a high level of movement. The windbreaker will be your reliable companion during training in colder weather, especially in autumn and spring.

Despite the light material, the sports windbreaker has an excellent protective function. Excellent protection against wind and adverse weather. The hood is also a plus, which you will appreciate especially in dry weather. The cuffs on the sleeves can be adjusted with studs. A black jacket is an excellent choice for training, work out exercises, various sports activities and active leisure time.
