Description

Under Armor men's shoes. Trail shoes for men are in a stylish black design and will please every man who prefers a sporty look. Running sneakers have a mesh upper that ensures excellent air circulation. Reinforced toe, heel and the most stressed parts increase the resistance and protection of the foot. Branded sneakers have a midsole made of Charged Cushioning® foam, which perfectly dampens vibrations.

Running sneakers are well combined with sports pants and sweatshirts. Trail sneakers have a shaped insole that ensures comfort while running and at the same time eliminates slippage. Sports boots have a rubber sole with a high-quality pattern for the best traction. The running shoes have a deep pattern in the sole, which will come in handy in difficult terrain.

Charged Bandit sneakers are perfect companions for off-roading, for running in the forest, on unpaved terrain, for outdoor activities and active leisure time.
