Description

Everett men's shoes. Men's hiking boots have a higher cut and a classic design. The upper of the mountain shoes is a combination of high-quality materials. Trek shoes are comfortable and breathable. The padded collar enhances comfort even during a longer hike or ascent. Trekking shoes have a reinforced toe and heel, so there is no unnecessary wear and tear. The Fixbase strengthening system is located around the heel and ankle. It strengthens the leg in the most stressed area and ensures stability even in more demanding terrain.

Outdoor shoes have a waterproof membrane that will protect you from moisture even in bad weather. The lacing is supplemented with hooks and allows the leg to be secured according to individual needs. A loop in the back and on the tongue makes it easier to put on and take off hiking boots. Branded men's hiking shoes have a rubber sole with excellent traction even on uneven terrain.
