Description

Tecnica men's shoes. Trekking ankle boots Forge M GTX will appeal to men who prefer a timeless design. The higher cut of hiking boots is a guarantee of stability when worn. The upper of the men's trekking shoes is perforated for a higher level of breathability. The toe and heel of the mountain boots are reinforced with additional material for better protection of the foot.

The benefit of boots for the forest is the Gore-tex membrane, which ensures the waterproofness of the shoe. The padded interior of hiking shoes ensures comfort even during a long hike. The Vibram Forge sole conquers even very demanding terrain. Shoes for men are perfect companions for demanding hiking, trekking and outdoor adventures.
