Description

Adidas men's shoes. Hiking boots will appeal to men who like a combination of modern design and functionality. Outdoor shoes adapt well to the foot thanks to the classic padding. The construction of trekking shoes is a support for hiking.

A strong point is the upper with a ripstop structure, which is extremely durable and breathable at the same time. The shaped insole in trekking shoes ensures comfort during trekking. Excellent cushioning and shock absorption will be provided by the midsole made of EVA material. The anti-slip Traxion sole will delight you with super traction. Black mountain boots are great companions for hiking trails, trekking, camping and outdoor adventures.
