Description

Tecnica men's shoes. Men's hiking boots in a modern look and with excellent functional features will delight hiking lovers. The Magma model is intended for all mountain terrains. Outdoor shoes provide a new level of grip and ankle protection and support. On the other hand, the construction of the trekking shoes is light, which you will definitely appreciate. The upper made of hydrophobic polyamide mesh ensures breathability. Tecnica footwear has a Gore-Tex® Extended Comfort membrane.

Trekking shoes have the possibility of individual adaptation to each foot. Thanks to CAS technology, it is possible to achieve a perfect individual tailor-made cut. An excellent feature of ankle hiking shoes is grip and protection in any terrain, which is ensured by the Vibram® Megagrip™ Litebase™ XO SHIELD sole. Thanks to these boots for the forest, your performance when going down the hill will also be supported thanks to the wider heel in the rear part. Shock absorption is a matter of course thanks to the midsole with EVA foam.
