Description

Under Armor women's bra. The branded bra will attract trends with a sporty look that looks feminine. A training bra is a guarantee of support during training. The cut of the training bra allows for a high degree of movement. Mesh panels for excellent air ventilation are a bonus.

A sports bra made of soft material will provide comfort during exercise. The Heatgear material wicks away sweat very well and dries quickly. A plus is the adjustable straps, the length of which you can adjust as needed. It includes a t- shaped, injected one-piece lining made of PU material for maximum comfort. The pink bra is great for various sports and leisure activities and work out exercises.
