Description

Women's skialp pants brand 4F. Skialp pants have a modern design and functional features that will be appreciated by all lovers of ski mountaineering. Their light construction does not restrict movement and the advanced Primaloft® Active filling provides high protection against the cold, even without additional weight. They are easy to pack and you can keep them in your backpack in case of need. The pants are breathable, so they will also provide the necessary air circulation.

Women's skialp pants have a semi-elastic waist with an adjustable tunnel cord with stoppers. They are finished with elasticated rubber cuffs with an internal silicone band to keep them in place. The fabric of the skialp pants is resistant to moisture and has undergone a hydrophobic treatment. Ski mountaineering pants have two side pockets with zip. Their advantage is also YKK zippers along the entire length, which can be unzipped and you can thus regulate your body temperature or freedom of movement.
