Description

Fundango women's jacket. The white women's jacket has a nice feminine cut that flatters the figure. It will please ladies who prefer minimalism and clean style. The jacket stands out with a Dripex membrane with a water column of 10,000 mm and breathability of 8,000 g/m²/h. The women's winter jacket has a warm synthetic filling, thanks to which you will be warm even in worse weather conditions. It helps maintain the heat produced by the body and prevents heat loss. Another excellent feature of the filling is its compressibility, thanks to which the jacket fits even in a small space in a travel bag. The ski windbreaker has a water-repellent DWR treatment that prevents water droplets from settling on the fabric, allowing water to collect in the form of tiny beads and roll off the jacket, so you can wear it even in wet weather. Welded seams in critical places are also an advantage.

The women's ski windbreaker fastens with a zipper ending in a chin guard and a collar. The built-in hood with drawstring contributes to protection against cold and wind. The sleeves of the waterproof jacket have inner cuffs with thumb holes. The outer adjustable cuffs are finished with Velcro. There are vents in the armpits to help regulate heat. The white windbreaker for winter has three external zipped pockets, two on the sides and one on the chest. A snow jacket provides freedom of movement and allows layering of clothing underneath. A stylish winter jacket will please all active ladies.
