Description

Trezeta men's shoes. Hiking boots are designed with an emphasis on functionality . Outdoor shoes appeal with a modern yet timeless design. Thanks to their special construction, they guarantee excellent stability. Mountain boots have a soft waterproof suede and textile upper. The soft lining allows comfort inside the shoe.

Trekking shoes for hiking have a Trezeta Water Stopper membrane, which prevents the penetration of external elements into the shoe. The dual-density EVA midsole absorbs shocks and provides optimal cushioning. Outdoor shoes are extremely stable, thanks to the Vibram® Multiland sole, which guarantees maximum traction. The sole has a large contact zone in the front, which improves grip, and the multi-traction blocks ensure excellent durability on all types of terrain. An excellent choice for more demanding routes, for walks, for camping or camping.
