Description

Adidas women's shoes. Trekking shoes appeal not only with excellent functionality, but also with a modern outdoor design. The construction of the trekking shoes is durable and has a low weight. Combine these trekking shoes with hiking clothes and go on an adventure.

Hiking shoes for women have a light mesh upper, which is a guarantee of excellent air circulation. Mountain shoes provide excellent stability thanks to the higher cut. The midsole made of EVA material provides excellent cushioning and shock absorption.

Women's forest boots have a Continental rubber sole that ensures grip on both wet and dry surfaces. The hiking boots fasten with classic lacing. Shoes in red design are reliable companions for conquering tourist routes, trekking, outdoor activities and walks in nature.
