Description

Adidas men's shoes. adidas Terrex hiking boots convince with excellent functionality. The mesh upper ensures sufficient breathability. The waterproof Gore-Tex membrane will protect you from rain and moisture. Trek shoes have a durable upper that will keep your feet dry. Outdoor shoes for men will also be popular thanks to the quick lacing, which ensures stability on uneven surfaces. The feeling of stability is enhanced by the reinforced heel and shaped toe, which also protects the toes.

The hiking shoes have a high-quality sole made of Continental rubber, which easily copes with stones and roots on hiking trails. The classic cut of hiking shoes fits every type of foot. Branded hiking shoes for men have a comfortable and shaped insole, thanks to which you will feel comfortable even during a longer hike. These trekking shoes are made for hiking adventures.
